TIMES-VIRGINIAN
APPOMATTOX, VIRGINIA

A LIVE WEEKLY NEWSPAPER AT HISTORIC APPOMATTOX COURT HOUSE VIRGINIA

NUMBER 39 APPOMATTOX (VA.), 24522 - TIMES-VIRGINIAN, SEPTEMBER 28, 1972 10¢ SINGLE COPY

H.W.Conner, Postmaster at Appomattox, stands beside the mail collection boxes that have been relocated and are now in front of the local Post Office.

Mail Collection Box Relocated

On September 30 the Appomattox Post Office and other associate offices under the Lynchburg Sectional Center, will no longer cancel and distribute outgoing mail. This mail processing operation will be handled at the special center facility.

In order to avoid delay in delivery of local mail it is very important that customers separate local and out of town mail.

Therefore, two collection boxes will be located in front of the Post Office marked (Appomattox Mail Only) and (Out of Town Mail).

Mail taken from the (Out of Town) box will not be checked before dispatch. Appomattox mail deposited in that box will be sent to Lynchburg and returned to Appomattox on the next trip.

Out-of-town mail on which sender requests an Appomattox postmark should be given to clerk at the window rather than deposited in the box outside or the letter drop inside the lobby.

Customers who would like more information about this new procedure are invited to call or come by the Post Office at any time.

MRS. HUDSON NAMED OPERATIONS OFFICER

Fidelity National Bank has promoted five employees, two in Lynchburg and three in its southside offices, according to an announcement by E. R. Harris, Jr., president.

Those promoted are: in Lynchburg, David U. Campbell, Assistant Vice-President and Manager of the Brookville Branch, to Vice-President and Manager; and Paul S. Colby, to Accounting Officer; Robert L. Hall, Assistant Vice-President and Loan Officer at the Drakes Branch Office, to Vice-President and Manager; Mrs. Mary S. Hudson, to Operations Officer at Appomattox office, and Mrs. Barbara C. Royal, to Operations Officer at the Clarksville office.

Mrs. Hudson joined Fidelity in September of 1947 after her graduation from Phillips Business College. A native of Appomattox, she was graduated from Appomattox High School and has completed two A.I.B. courses.

A member of Memorial United Methodist Church, Mrs. Hudson is recording secretary of the Administrative Board. She has taught Sunday School for 25 years and served as steward for 15 years. She is also a member of the P.T.A. and a former member of the Junior Woman's Club.

She is married to Mateland L. Hudson, and they have one daughter. They make their home in Appomattox.

Parents Night For College Bound Seniors Set For Tuesday

A miniature college-night, on the local level, for parents and students has been set for Tuesday night, October 3rd, at 7:30 p.m., in the cafeteria of the Appomattox County High School.

All college bound seniors attending ACHS and their parents are urged to attend this informative meeting. According to Mrs. Pauline Dew, Guidance Department at ACHS, the miniature college-night is being set up so that they can be sure parents are informed and this will provide the opportunity.

Discussions are planned regarding Admission Policies, Tuition Costs, Financial Assistance Available and Central Virginia Community College personnel will give a description of the programs at their college, including new programs available now.

College representatives who will be on hand to answer questions and give advice will include the following: Longwood College - Mrs. Frances Brooks, Director of Admissions and others from the Admissions Office; Lynchburg College - Mr. Linwood Orenduff, Admissions Counselor; Washington and Lee - Captain J. R. Riner will discuss ROTC programs in W & L and in all colleges offering the ROTC program; V.P.I. & S.U. - Mr. Archie Phlegar, Assistant Director of Admissions; and from Central Virginia Community College - Dean J. E. Merritt and members of the Admissions Office; Joan Martin, Financial Aid Officer; Roe Hurst, Science, Math and Medical Technology; and Bill Dail, Field of Engineering and related Technology.

If you are a parent of a college bound senior, the Guidance Department urges you to bring your student along and attend this meeting.

Cyl-Con Begins Operations At Plant In County

Alfred R. Ashmore, President and Chief Executive Officer of Ashmore, Inc., Hunt Valley, Maryland, has announced the opening of plant operations for its subsidiary, Cyl-Cons, Inc., at Evergreen, Virginia.

Cyl-Con is engaged in the repair, remanufacture and recertification of gas cylinders and has similar plant facilities in several locations throughout the United States. Manager of Operations Evergreen is Mr. William D. Monk.

It was largely through the efforts of Mr. Jim Smith, President of the Appomattox County Development Corporation, as well as the Virginia Industrial Development commission, that the decision was made in favor of the Evergreen location, according to Mr. Ashmore.

The operations at Cyl-Con offers new life for your out-of-service gas cylinders. Regardless of the condition of gas cylinders, Cyl-Con offers top quality, recertification, rapid service, realistic prices and much more.

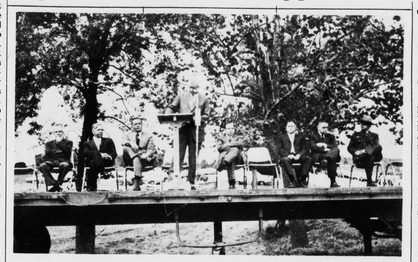
Mayors Proclaim October Rescue Squad Month For Appomattox County



Ceremonies were held on Saturday afternoon, September 23rd, commemorating Joe Sweeney, the inventor of the five-string banjo, when a marker was unveiled designating his birthplace and gravesite.

Taking part in the formal program, pictured above from left to right are: Calvin H. Robinson, local historian who gave a brief talk on the life of the late Joe Sweeney; Howard Anderson of Halifax, State Senator representing our county; Claude W. Anderson of Buckingham, Member of the House of Representatives; Charles S. Marshall (standing), keynote speaker for the occasion; Watkins M. Abbitt, Member of Congress representing the Fourth District; Richard Sweeney, the only living male direct descendant of the late Joe Sweeney; Bolling Flood of Washington, D.C., formerly of Appomattox, son of the late Senator H. D. Flood and a great historian and an admirer of Joe Sweeney; and Robert Madden, Park Superintendent at the Appomattox Court House National Historical Park.

Ceremonies Commemorating Joe Sweeney Held Saturday

A marker disgnating the birthplace and gravesite of Joel Walker Sweeney, inventor of the five-string banjo, was unveiled in ceremonies held in Appomattox on Saturday afternoon, September 23rd, beginning at 1 p.m. at the Appomattox River Wayside on Route 24, adjacent to the Appomattox Court House National Historical Park. Henry Fulcher, of Radio Station WFLO was Master of Ceremonies.

W. M. Abbitt, Member of Congress, representing the Fourth District, introduced the guest speaker, Charles S. Marshall who is Director of the Virginia State Office of the National Park Service.

In his remarks made on Saturday, Marshall stated that, "it would seem most appropriate to me as it must to you, demonstrated by your very presence here, that we have gathered near the grave of Joe Sweeney. A short distance west is old Appomattox Village where just over a hundred years ago, Lee and Grant met to reunite the nation, as Mr. Abbitt said. Here we are not dealing with war and death, suffering and desolation, but with the arts, with song and music, humor and joy. Too seldom do we emphasize the pleasant and lighter side of life. Here it is appropriate that we honor the memory of Joe Sweeney and leave our own imprint on this site so that Americans who come after us may take note of his contributions." Mr. Marshall further said, "So today, I would ask you to take pride, not only in Joe Sweeney and other leaders of the past, but to remember also that you have a fine group of distinguished citizens of today those who we should also honor and to whom I join in paying tribute. People such as Watkins M. Abbitt and Calvin Robinson and all the other distinguished citizens who, by
